

Introducing the world's first Laboratory Business Management System

Go beyond the limits of LIMS

The nature of the laboratory business is changing dramatically. To survive and thrive, laboratories require a new generation of informatics solutions, designed to manage the lab as an agile, knowledge-driven business in an increasingly interconnected world.

InterSystems' laboratory business management system will help customers transform from a reactive testing and results service to a proactive healthcare partner by:

- Connecting your lab to the broader healthcare ecosystem
- Creating a comprehensive Patient Pathology Record
- Extending your services into hospital wards and other settings
- Transforming your lab into a data-driven business
- Having ERP-like visibility, control, and accountability over the entire testing process
- Streamlining workflows and standard operating procedures, reducing waste, and lowering costs
